

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

SO... WE HEAR YOU'RE LOOKING FOR CHEFS?

Yes! We have a premier charity event: Southman Could Cook. We know you're ready to put down a pot.

SO WHAT'S THE DEAL WITH THIS NOW?

This event is meant to let everybody in San'do come together and showcase how Southies could throw down in the kitchen; what we are asking for is for teams from various companies, or schools, etc to come and get on South-style with their dish of choice.

SOUNDING GOOD... BUT WHAT WE GETTING OUT OF THIS?

Hear this... we decided that the real people who need to benefit from something like this would be the charities of Trinidad & Tobago. So if your team wins a prize, that prize goes to whichever charity you want to name as your beneficiary. The charitable organisations of Trinidad work extremely hard, and do good work, most of which is unseen by the general public - this is a great chance to give back! Great people doing great things!

HOW MANY PORTIONS DO I NEED TO COOK?

It's really easy! Cook enough of a meat, seafood or veggie main dish to feed 50-60 people.

HOW MUCH MEAT IS THAT, MY BOY?

So for bone-in meat: up to about ½ lb per person so 50 people will be about 25 lbs of chicken if you are currying bone-in. If it is not bone in, like slices of lamb or beef brisket, then its up to about 1/3 lb per person - so 50 people will be like 16 lbs

SO WHAT TIME DO I COME IN TO SERVE?

Food starts serving between 6-8 pm on Saturday. Chefs will have to be in earlier to dish-out the food into the warming trays and place them at your serving station by 5:30 pm for inspection. As soon as you're done serving food, you can pack up your food tray, take off your chef's shirt and join the party. By 8 you're in the party anyway

CHEF'S SHIRT YOU SAID THERE?

Yeah, chefs need to have a little uniform when you serve the ladies so please fill out the form so we know your size. When you're done just return it to our staff

SERVE THE LADIES? ONLY MAN COOKING?

Ladies cooking all the time! This Saturday is their day to put the feet up and we serve them. Treat them right!

WHAT IS ON THE FORM?

Your contact info, the organisation you represent, what dish you plan to make (beef, veggie, shrimp etc), the sexy name of your dish, and most importantly the charity of your choice. Remember we have some sweet cash prizes for charity, so this is a great chance to give back to charities who work so hard.

BOY, I OUT OF TOWN! I WISHED I COULD BUBBLE SOMETHING...

Not a problem if you can't bubble something, why not come together and "sponsor" another chef to bubble and serve on your behalf? In fact get a couple friends to come in with you and sponsor a chef. If you know you have a pal in the office who is the hands down champion then sponsor him. Get your office together to aim to win a prize donation to the charity of your choice

SOME FRIENDS AND I FEEL LIKE IT'S BETTER TO CATER IT OUT

Haha, you're moving "tong-man" style. Say what, it's for charity so all in good spirit. Yes, there is nothing wrong with deciding to cater it out. Most can easily pay a caterer somewhere between $800 and $1,000 to deliver 60 servings on the day, that will depend on your choice of dish. By the way, will your friend be serving? Or outsourcing that too since you're out of country?

SO WHEN ARE THE PRIZES GIVEN?

Prizes will be awarded to dishes which command the attention of the patrons in various ways, and by 9 pm at the same event all the prizes should be handed out. The winning chefs walk up to the stage to get your big cheques, with the final cheques delivered to your charity of choice that very same week.

The prizes will be as follows:

- Fastest Half Century - $10,000 (first to serve 50 patrons)
- Most Creative Dish $5,000 (includes most creative name)
- Best Presentation - $5,000
- Best Vegetarian Dish - $2,500
- Best Dessert - $2,500
- Best "Spirit-Infused" Dish - $2,500
